

The road into Kings Canyon and for the 15km to the edge of the NP is sealed and has a fair level of tourist traffic.

Kings Canyon is well worth the excursion.

The Kings Canyon Resort has plenty of nature loving tourists, here watching the light from the sunset.

To tell the truth the surface on the Mereenie Loop is not so flash.

You make progress when the surface is hard.

But it's OK country to travel through.

Typical riding.

There is a bit of tourist travel in 4WDs.

Not much sand is left. The road has been mostly resurfaced in recent years.

This is what resurfacing means. Teeth jarring cobblestones, but at least you can make great progress.

The road near Katapata Pass.

The first bit of Namatijira Drive has some sand which is slow going. Doesn't last long.

Gosse Bluff is worth getting a closer look at. A comet hit here 145 million years ago, give or take a few days.

The road into Redbank Gorge with the ridge you climb, left to right, to go up Mt Sonder.

Redbank Gorge.

Camping on the rocks at Redbank Gorge, Ridgetop campsite.

The view from Mt Sonder is one of the great views in Australia, can see most of the West MacDonnell National Park.

The road along the NP is a good sealed road with plenty of tourists on day trips from Alice.

Ormiston Gorge is the biggest tourist attraction along here.

Ellery Creek Bighole is real nice in the morning for sunrise.

The roadside lookouts are all worth a look.

OK riding.

After 8.7km there is a short straight I believe.

Stanley Chasm is tiny.

Almost into Alice. The last 30km runs along the Rawlinson Range.

Alice Springs from Anzac Hill. You made it.
